

A missing piece of Lake Charles history has come home.

A copy of the first Directory of the City of Lake Charles, published in 1895, has recently been added to the genealogical collection of the Calcasieu Parish Public Library.

With the help of John Sellers, a genealogical speaker who visited our library in 2005, our former director, Michael Sawyer, who had contacts with the California State Library, and the assistance of Martha Whittaker, Senior Librarian of Sutro Library of San Francisco, and BMI Imaging, the one firm approved to take items off-site for reproduction to microfilm and CD-ROM copies, Calcasieu Parish has this rare gem.

A photocopy version and a microfilm copy are available at the SWLA Genealogical & Historical Library, 411 Pujo Street in Lake Charles.

TO THE PUBLIC.

This is the first time a directory of the growing and progressive city of Lake Charles, Louisiana, has ever been presented to those who have so liberally patronized this undertaking.

The publisher flatters himself that the public will find in this Directory a work both serviceable and convenient, and, at the time of publication, as complete and accurate as time, labor and care can make it.

If this book should prove to be of substantial worth to the local commercial community, and also to the residents and also to the transient travel and floating population with which Lake Charles abounds, the hopes of the publisher will have been more than realized, and he will experience no regret over the deal of labor and expense incident to this publication.

With best wishes for a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year, I remain

Sincerely yours,

THE CITY OF LAKE CHARLES.

The first settler on the present site of the City of Lake Charles was Charles Sallier, who came here from Italy in 1817 and settled on the shores of the lake near where Mrs. Barb now resides.

In 1832 Thomas Bilbo settled near where the Bel-Bunker mill is now located. In 1835 Mitchel Pithon settled near the present site of Drew's mill. - Jacob Ryan moved here the spring of 1850 and made his home and his farm on the ground where the principal business part of the city is now located. In 1854 the court-house, which was located about six miles above Lake Charles, was moved to the present site of Lake Charles by Jacob Ryan and Samuel A. Kirby at their own expense. In 1857 the town was incorporated under the name of Charleston. It was then a mere struggling settlement of a dozen or fifteen houses, situated on the east bank of the beautiful lake named Lake Charles. In 1867 the town was incorporated under its present name of Lake Charles. In 1876 the Southern Pacific Railroad was built through the town, which then contained less than 800 inhabitants.

In the early part of the year 1883 Mr. J. B. Watkins, of Lawrence, Kansas, visited Lake Charles. On his arrival in the town he could find neither hotel or boarding house, but found entertainment in the home of Capt. Hawkins, who then lived in what was perhaps the best house in the town, located on Pujo street nearly opposite the Howard House. The town then contained not to exceed 800 inhabitants. At that time the houses now owned by J. G. Powell and Judge Reed were the only houses east of Hodges street in the town.

The land around where Mr. Nason's and Chester Brown's residences now stand was a rice field, and a slough ran through the block now occupied by the Watkins Bank. Around where the Masonic Hall and the American office now stand was a forest. Business was at a low ebb, and the whole country around was almost entirely undeveloped.

The advent of Mr. J. B. Watkins in Lake Charles marks a new era in the town's history. During the first five months of the year 1883 Mr. Watkins was engaged in selecting and purchasing the large tracts of land owned by him, and which was at that time wholly undeveloped and not considered worth purchasing by the people who were here.

In January, 1884, Mr. Watkins began the work of developing his property in and around Lake Charles. The effect of his operations in which hundreds of thousands of dollars were paid out for labor and materials was great, not only in the city but the entire country.

In the early part of 1887 "The American," a sixteen page weekly, was established here, and the work of advertising the city and country was begun, and has been continued at an expense of more than $100,000.

The result of all these influences was that Lake Charles rapidly developed, growing from a town of 800 inhabitants in 1884 to more than 3,000 in 1890.

In 1890 the K. C. W. & G. R'y was begun, ten miles being completed that year. During the winter of 1890, through the influence of Mr. Watkins, an appropriation of $100,000 was obtained from Congress to begin the improvement of Calcasieu Pass. The effect of these two enterprises was immediately felt by Lake Charles. An era of prosperity began that could scarcely be impeded by the great financial depression of 1893.

All of the fine business buildings and most of the best residences have been erected since 1890. The population has increased from 3,000 in 1890 to 8,000 in 1895. Many important business enterprises has been inaugurated during this period, among which may be mentioned one of the largest diffusion sugar refineries in the United States, and one of the largest rice mills in the world.

In and around Lake Charles are located saw mills, shingle mills and other factories, among which the most important are the Bradley-Ramsey Lumber Company's mill, with a capacity of 125,000 feet of lumber per day; the Bel-Bunker mill, with a daily capacity of 100,000 feet; the Perkins & Miller, with a daily capacity of 80,000 feet; the Mt. Hope mill, with a daily capacity of 65,000 feet; the Lock, Moore & Co., with a daily capacity of 80,000 feet; W. B. Norris, with a daily capacity of 55,000 feet; Drew & Powell, with a daily capacity of 50,000 feet, and Thomas Hansen's shingle mill with a daily capacity of 100,000 shingles; the J. H. Poe Shingle Co., with a daily capacity of 100,000 shingles. The old Drew mill on the east shore of the lake will be ready to resume operation January 1, 1896, having a daily capacity of 40,000 feet.

The Ice Factory and Water-works, including an Electric Light plant, is owned and operated by J. A. Landry & Co., and supplies the city with ice, light and water. Mr. Grant Mutersbaugh established in 1891 in Lake Charles a planing mill and general wood-working machinery.

Patrick Crowley, the Mayor of Lake Charles, is now holding that office the third term. Mr. Crowley is a native of County Cork, Ireland, and came to America when seventeen years of age. He has been a resident of Lake Charles since 1879. In addition to being mayor of this city he is the proprietor of the Lake Charles Steam Laundry, which is one of the best plants in the State. During Mr. Crowley's term of office as mayor he has done more toward giving the city of Lake Charles good streets, good draining and street walks, than any other mayor we have had.

In 1893 Mr. John Brown built a sash and door factory near the Watkins depot, which has since been successfully operated. In 1895 Mr. Thomas Bartley, having purchased the Tomkins wood-working establishment and the machinery of a sash and door factory, consolidated and moved both to the south side of Pithou Coulee, where he has a large and commodious woodworking establishment. The Hodge Fence Factory is an important enterprise that was inaugurated in 1893 and has been in operation since that period.

In 1894 Buck's Brick and Tile Factory was established. In 1891 Mr. H. B. Milligan opened up an exclusive wholesale and retail grocery store, which is now under the firm name of Thompson & Loree. The Milligan-Martin Wholesale Grocery Co., Lt'd, was organized in 1893.

Among the mercantile establishments we mention those of L. Kaufman, C. Bunker, Murry-Brooks Hardware Co., The Palace Grocery Store, Marion Hadley, Rock's Hardware Store. Loxley-Martin Hardware, Eddy Bros., dry goods, and many others. M D. Kearney is the leading drug store. The Lake Charles Carriage and Implement Company carry a general stock of all kinds in their line. Drew & Co. carry a stock of sash, doors, farm implements, etc.

Of banks Lake Charles is well supplied. The Watkins Bank was established in 1885, and has a large and well established business. The First National Bank was established in 1889 and has a capital stock of $50,000. The Calcasieu Bank was established in 1892 with a capital stock of $125,000. In 1890 a street railway was built from the Southern Pacific depot up through the principal streets of the city. This line has since been extended and improved.

In 1892 the Belt Line Railway was put in operation by the K. C. W. & G. Ry. Co. This line runs through the city and connects with the K. C. W. & G. depots. The United States mail boat makes regular trips three times per week, connecting Lake Charles with Cameron parish and the Gulf of Mexico.

The livery business is represented by George & Swift, Ryan & Dearborn, and W. A. Kirkwood. The legal profession is ably represented by O'Bryan & Fournet, and many others.

The newspapers are The American, The Lake Charles Press, The Lake Charles Echo, The Lake Charles Commercial, and The New Road. The leading hotels are the Howard House, Lake House, Hotel Acme, Walker House, Nason Villa. Besides these there are several first-class boarding houses.

The Lake Charles High School is an institution she may well be proud of. It is the best public school system in the State. The buildings are well arranged; there are sixteen teachers employed and the curriculum embraces an eleven-year course, preparing the graduates for admission into the Freshman class in Tulane University. The Lake Charles College is also an important institution of learning of high grade. The St. Charles Academy, connected with the Catholic church, is also a flourishing institution of learning.

Lake Charles is also noted for her many beautiful and palatial residences, as well as for some splendid business blocks. Her water-works, electric light and telephone systems are first class in every particular, and her principal street is substantially paved with shells.

Lake Charles has thus grown from a mere straggling village of 800 inhabitants in 1883 to be the third city in the State, with a rustling, pushing population of upwards of 8,000, and with all the air and improvement of a city.

The future prospects of this beautiful City by the Lake are of the most flattering character.

She seems destined ere long to see her harbor opened to the commerce of the world, and to have her wharves crowded with the ships of all nations.

A NEW BOOK JUST ISSUED BY THE SOUTHERN PACIFIC

FOR GRATUITOUS DISTRIBUTION.

The Southern Pacific has just issued for Gratuitous Distribution to those who apply in person at its General Offices a handsome volume of upwards of 200 pages, printed on specially made plate paper, illustrated with 160 half-tone illustrations by leading Artists. The text is by H. S. Kneedler and is a clearly written narrative of a trip over the entire system, describing fully and graphically the romantic, historic and scenic features of the trip.

The Book is such a one as every poet or prospective tourist will want to have. It is an entertaining volume of travel that will be preserved in the library. If you can not call send twenty cents in stamps to cover postage and get a copy.
